

Aiming Methods

Date: 2026-01-12

Long wires radiate strongest off the wire ends when length $> 1 \lambda$.

Orient the wire so the main lobes point toward the target area.

Use modeling to find lobe angles at your operating frequency.

For short wires ($< 0.5 \lambda$), broadside radiation is dominant.

Confirm direction with on-air reports or beacons.